SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 582

1 A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION COMMENDING THE LIFE OF STUART C.
2 IRBY, JR., JACKSON BUSINESS LEADER AND PHILANTHROPIST, AND 3 EXPRESSING THE SYMPATHY OF THE LEGISLATURE.

4 WHEREAS, remembered as a thinker who sought to help the city
5 he loved, Jackson business leader and philanthropist, Stuart C.
6 Irby, Jr., passed away on Friday, February 21, 2003; and

7 WHEREAS, the former Chairman and President of Irby
8 Construction Company and Stuart C. Irby Company, an electrical 9 supply company that literally provided power transmission lines to 10 every corner of the globe, Stuart Irby used his talents to benefit 11 others; and

12 WHEREAS, in 1993, Governor Fordice appointed him as the first 13 Chairman of the Mississippi Gaming Commission, representing 14 financially independent businessmen, and Stuart took a personal 15 interest in ensuring that this important new industry was 16 regulated under a free market system of gaming; and

17 WHEREAS, a Jackson native, Stuart C. Irby, Jr., graduated
18 from Louisiana State University in 1948 with a degree in business
19 administration, and continued his studies at the Graduate 20 Institute of International Studies in Geneva, Switzerland, from 21 1953-1954; he had served three years in the Army during World War
22 II, his unit landed at Normandy six days after D-Day, and he spent 23 two years in the European Theater; and

24 WHEREAS, he took over as President and Chairman of Irby
25 Construction Company in 1955, a family business his father had 26 founded in 1926, and Stuart built it up from a small local power 27 line contractor to one of the largest power line contractors in

28 the world, building power lines in 42 states and 12 international 29 projects in Asia, Africa and Central America; the Stuart C. Irby 30 Company grew to 38 branches in nine states; and

31 WHEREAS, his business success served as a springboard for his 32 civic and charitable activities; he gave 10% of his company's 33 earnings to community activities, supporting everything from the 34 Jackson Symphony Orchestra to human service agencies, by issuing a 35 challenge or matching requirement to his funding in order to 36 require the community recipients to have a vested interest in the 37 activity; and

38 WHEREAS, he believed in getting to the facts, practicing 39 solid logical reasoning and having a person's actions mirror his 40 words; his personal philanthropy was widely known but quietly 41 practiced; and

42 WHEREAS, Irby had many varied interests: he was an investor
43 in the State Times Newspaper; an active investor and board member
44 of Deposit Guaranty Bank; a long-time Chairman of French Camp
45 Academy; a founding member of Covenant Presbyterian Church; a 46 founding member of the River Hills Club; a founding member of the 47 Metropolitan Dance/Supper Club; he initiated the first corporate 48 health and fitness programs in Jackson; he founded the Jackson
49 Enterprise Center for new businesses; he donated the former Kress
50 Building to Mississippi State University for its School of 51 Architecture; he was inducted into the Mississippi Business Hall 52 of Fame in 1992; he loved all things English and owned a castle in 53 England; he contributed financially to Belhaven College, where the 54 classroom building called the Irby Complex is named in honor of 55 his family; he was a major supporter of the Jackson (Mississippi)
56 Symphony Orchestra; the Centennial Exhibition at the Mississippi 57 Museum of Art was sponsored by the Irby family where a wing is 58 named in memory of Bitsy Irby; he was a supporter of the Capitol
59 City Stage Band because he loved to dance to the music of his 60 generation; and he contributed to many organizations anonymously,

61 and the fact that his family continues to be active in many of the 62 same organizations demonstrates the extent of his civic duty and 63 philanthropy; and

64 WHEREAS, Irby is survived by his wife, Debbie West Irby;
65 sister, Beth Milam; five children, Margaret, Stuart M., Charles, 66 Joe and Richard; and ten grandchildren; and

67 WHEREAS, it is with sadness and humility that we recognize 68 the passing of this remarkable citizen whose business leadership
69 and generous spirit instilled total commitment to his community
70 and to the State of Mississippi:

71 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF 72 MISSISSIPPI, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN, That 73 we do hereby commend the life of Stuart C. Irby, Jr., Jackson 74 business leader and philanthropist, for his commitment to his 75 community and state, and express to his family the sympathy of the 76 Legislature on his passing.

77 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this resolution be presented to 78 Stuart's surviving family and be made available to the Capitol
79 Press Corps.
