SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 514

1 A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION COMMENDING THE LIFE OF RENOWN
2 MISSISSIPPI NOVELIST AND CIVIL WAR HISTORIAN SHELBY FOOTE, A 3 NATIVE OF GREENVILLE, MISSISSIPPI, AND LONGTIME RESIDENT OF 4 MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE, AND EXPRESSING THE SYMPATHY OF THE LEGISLATURE
5 ON HIS PASSING.

6 WHEREAS, Novelist and Civil War Historian Shelby Foote, who 7 became a national celebrity explaining the war to America on a
8 1990 PBS documentary, died at 88 years of age on Monday, June 27, 9 2005; and

10 WHEREAS, Shelby Foote was born in Greenville, Mississippi, in 11 1916, where he spent most of his childhood and his early adult
12 life. After attending the University of North Carolina from 1935 13 to 1937, Foote was drafted into the Army in 1940. He rose to the 14 rank of Captain before being dismissed by court martial in Ireland 15 in 1944 after traveling two miles beyond the official limit to see 16 his girlfriend (who later would become his first wife); he joined 17 the Marines the next year; and

18 WHEREAS, born during the Jazz age when money was abundant,
19 and growing up during the Great Depression when money was scarce, 20 Shelby Foote experienced many changes that greatly influenced his 21 ideas and writings. There was definitely much to write about,
22 having lived in the heart of the South where cotton plantations 23 thrived, where the depression hit hard, and where the prospect and 24 excitement of war was always in the air. Shelby Foote's ancestors 25 also created exciting elements for his fiction and influenced his 26 work. The details of Foote's family background are directly 27 related to Foote's work; and

28           WHEREAS, Foote published his first novel, Tournament, in 29 1949. This was followed by three other works -- Follow Me Down
30 (1950), Love in a Dry Season (1951), and Shiloh (1952). Foote's
31 ability to create a realistic portrayal of the Civil War --
32 factually accurate, richly detailed, and entering into the minds 33 of men on both sides -- led by his editors in Random House to 34 invite him to write a short history of the war to appear for the 35 conflict's centennial. Twenty years later, Foote had produced his 36 massive three-volume history of the war -- Fort Sumter to 37 Perryville (1958), Fredericksburg to Meridian (1963), and Red 38 River to Appomattox (1974). To a generation of Americans who 39 learned most of what they knew of the Civil War from his starring 40 role as the co-narrator of the PBS documentary The Civil War, he 41 was an enigma of sad and haunted dark eyes and a lilting Southern 42 drawl; and

43           WHEREAS, Foote has been a Guggenheim Fellow three times, and 44 has served as a lecturer at the University of Virginia and Memphis 45 State; and

46           WHEREAS, in addition to his wife Gwyn, he is survived by his 47 daughter, Margaret Shelby, and a son, Huger Lee; and

48           WHEREAS, like William Faulkner, Walker Percy, Richard Wright, 49 Willie Morris, Eudora Welty and other magnificent Mississippi
50 writers before him, Foote's talents will stand the test of time.
51 It is with sadness that we note the passing of this prolific 52 Mississippi Journalist, whose gift for storytelling brought 53 permanent recognition to the Mississippi Delta and to the State of 54 Mississippi:

55           NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF 56 MISSISSIPPI, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN, That 57 we do hereby commend the life of renown Mississippi Novelist and 58 Civil War Historian Shelby Foote, a native of Greenville, 59 Mississippi, and longtime resident of Memphis, Tennessee, and

60 express to his surviving family the sympathy of the Legislature on 61 his passing.

62 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this resolution be presented to 63 the surviving family of Shelby Foote and be made available to the 64 Capitol Press Corps.
