1 A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION COMMENDING THE HUMANITARIAN
2 CONTRIBUTIONS OF DR. LEROY WADLINGTON, PASTOR OF THE SECOND 3 MISSIONARY BAPTIST CHURCH OF OXFORD, MISSISSIPPI.

4 WHEREAS, answering the call of Pilgrim Missionary Baptist
5 Church in Indianapolis, Indiana, the family of Dr. Leroy
6 Wadlington will leave Oxford, Mississippi, at the end of January 7 2006 to lead their new 1600-member congregation; and

8 WHEREAS, Dr. Wadlington, who has served as the Pastor of 9 Second Missionary Baptist Church for 23 years, knows he's trading
10 a certain level of comfort to become a stranger in an unfamiliar 11 place; and

12 WHEREAS, Leroy Wadlington was born and reared in Lafayette
13 County, Oxford, Mississippi. He learned hard work from the fields 14 and instructions on succeeding from his father and mother who 15 sharecropped to sustain the family until other opportunities were 16 available; and

17 WHEREAS, he graduated from Central High School and was Senior 18 Class President of the last class before mandated integration. He 19 continued his education at Northwest Junior College, Senatobia, 20 Mississippi; left his family home to attend the University of 21 Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin; W. Herbert Brewster Theological 22 Institute, Memphis, Tennessee; Southern Baptist Seminary,
23 Nashville, Tennessee; and a Doctorate of Divinity from New 24 Millennium Baptist College, Charlotte, North Carolina; and

25 WHEREAS, Leroy Wadlington was employed with Chambers
26 Corporation after returning from Wisconsin and finally with the 27 United States District Court for the Northern District of 28 Mississippi. Serving as the first African-American in the Clerks

29 division of the United States District Court within the Fifth 30 Circuit. He worked for district judges William C. Keady, Orma R.
31 Smith and finally Neal B. Biggers, until retiring after 21 years 32 of service in June 1996; and

33 WHEREAS, he has been very active in the affairs of the 34 Oxford, Lafayette County and University community, always 35 attempting to improve life for all citizens. He has received 36 numerous awards for his efforts. The most meaningful, the 37 "Mississippi Now Award" and the "Thomas Sullivan Humanitarian 38 Award" by the University of Mississippi; and

39 WHEREAS, he served as Moderator of the Tallahatchie-Oxford 40 District Association, Oxford, Mississippi, for six years, until 41 becoming elected President of the New Educational State Convention
42 of Mississippi in July 2003. He is presently Pastor of the Second 43 Missionary Baptist Church of Oxford, Mississippi, and has served 44 that congregation for 23 years; and

45 WHEREAS, today, his social-justice concerns in Oxford have 46 included "underemployment", the discrepancy between how much one 47 earns and what it actually costs to live here, as well as 48 affordable housing and predatory lending practices. At Second 49 Baptist, the focus has been on chipping away at some of those 50 issues by "serving the whole of man," as Wadlington terms the 51 vision. That's meant everything from preparing "healthy meals"
52 for Wednesday evening fellowship dinners, to hosting seminars on 53 financial issues like wills-and-estates planning, to his 54 compassionate efforts at local hospitals where he did not expect 55 his donations to be reimbursed; and

56 WHEREAS, Pastor Wadlington serves on numerous local and state 57 boards and committees such as: Board of Directors of the 58 Institution for Racial Reconciliation, University, Mississippi;
59 local and state AMOS Organization; Boys & Girls Club, United Way;

62 his children, Hiram, Lemont, LeCresha and LaKesha; and

63 WHEREAS, it is with gratitude that we recognize the ministry
64 of this mentor who has done a great service to his church and a 65 great service to the people in his community and state:

66 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF
