31 March 14, 1986, when "Strib," as he was affectionately known, took 32 his Mississippi Valley State Delta Devils to play Duke in the 33 opening round of the NCAA Tournament. Duke was the top seed,
34 meaning that Valley was No. 64. Duke, coached by Mike Krzyzewski
35 and led by the great Johnny Dawkins, a prohibitive force, playing 36 a few miles from their home in Greensboro, North Carolina, where

40 However, Valley led at halftime and then by as many as seven 41 points midway through the second half. Valley pressed and guarded 42 the Blue Devils as they had rarely been challenged before. Only 43 after four of Valley's five starters fouled out in the final five
