4 TO HIS FAMILY, FRIENDS AND COMMUNITY UPON HIS PASSING.

6 everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under 7 the Heaven," and as such, on October 30, 2022, the immaculate
8 author and finisher of our soul's destiny summoned the mortal
9 presence of the honorable and distinguished Gentleman from

11 represented House District 12, to eternal rest, rendering great 12 sorrow and loss to his family, friends and community; and

13 WHEREAS, the community of Oxford, Mississippi, lost a 14 wonderful friend with the passing of Representative Akins, and 15 there is now a hush in our hearts as we come together to pay our 16 respects to the memory of one who has been called to join that 17 innumerable heavenly caravan; and

18 WHEREAS, born on August 21, 1938, to Mr. Noal and Mrs. Opal

21 serving on teams throughout his life; and

22 WHEREAS, a graduate of Buena Vista High School, Northeast
23 Community College and Delta State University, Representative Akins
24 played basketball at each level and could be heard chuckling
25 softly when reviewing the box scores of the state basketball
26 tournament when he was assured his record for most points scored 27 in the state championship game had not been eclipsed, and he later 28 received his master's degree in education from the University of 29 Mississippi, which propelled him into a career of giving of 30 himself to others as a teacher and coach; and

31 WHEREAS, continuing his outstanding service to the State of 32 Mississippi, Representative Akins served on another team in the 33 Mississippi National Guard; and

34 WHEREAS, Representative Akins' love for basketball thrust him 35 to begin a career of coaching and education administration after 36 graduating from college, and he coached teams at Walnut High 37 School, Pontotoc High School, Marshall Academy, and Northwest and 38 Northeast Community Colleges, and his teams won numerous district
39 and state championships, which he later claimed were attained
40 despite his presence on the sideline; and

41 WHEREAS, while in his first coaching job at Walnut High 42 School, Representative Akins met his late wife, Joyce Graham, and 43 he found himself a part of another team with Joyce, but discovered

44 that you are not the captain on every team you join, and they were 45 married until Joyce's passing in 1991; and

46 WHEREAS, it was the relationships that Representative Akins
47 shared with his former players and students, and their parents 48 that provided him the greatest delight during his later years, and 49 he found increasing happiness in telling stories of the kids he 50 loved so dearly and the goals and aspirations that they had 51 achieved; and

52 WHEREAS, after coaching, Representative Akins started a
53 business team, by developing a successful business that provided
54 brick for numerous projects and homes in Mississippi, and any trip
55 with him, much to the chagrin of his granddaughter, would include
56 him pointing out any bricks he provided, the name and manufacturer 57 of the bricks, where the dirt was from that made the bricks, and 58 most importantly to him, a story of the people who lived inside
59 the walls, and all drives would include how the area related to 60 important points in Mississippi history, a topic he enjoyed 61 discussing as he truly loved Mississippi and her people; and

62 WHEREAS, after selling his brick company, Representative
63 Akins retired, and in "retirement" he, with others, helped to 64 establish Oxford University Bank, which he supported by serving on 65 the board of directors for many years, and retirement also 66 included joining another team, as he campaigned and was 67 successfully elected to the Mississippi House of Representatives,
68 where he faithfully served two terms in the Mississippi

69 Legislature from 2004 until 2012, representing Oxford and its 70 surrounding communities; and

73 Education, Judiciary B, Judiciary En Banc, Juvenile Justice and 74 Universities and Colleges; and

75 WHEREAS, Representative Akins often spoke of the legislative 76 process as being an ultimate "team sport," and he took great pride 77 in finding common ground with colleagues, worked hard to gain the 78 trust of those on both sides of the aisle, loved the debate,
79 collegiality and the opportunity to help others, and prided
80 himself on being a voice for reason, as he felt a responsibility 81 to those in our state that needed a hand up because it was always 82 the right thing to do; and

83 WHEREAS, though he has traversed life's river to now stand 84 upon the celestial shores in wonderment of Heaven's grandeur in 85 glorious reunion with the kindred spirits who transitioned before
86 him, including his parents, Mr. Noal and Mrs. Opal Akins; wife,

101 Representative Akins' outstanding legacy will continue for 102 generations to come, and precious memories of time spent with him 103 will hopefully continue to provide warmth, peace and comfort to 104 his loved ones; and

105 WHEREAS, it is the policy of this Legislature to honor the 106 indelible legacy of remarkable service of our former colleague and 107 friend, Representative Akins, who represented his district, this 108 body and the people of this state with honor and dignity, and 109 whose monumental life of a genuine selflessness illuminated the 110 path of hope for all he encountered along this earthly sojourn:
